Spence is a landscape architect, designer and campus planner whose diverse set of creative and technological skills allow him to bring passion, meaning and artistic sensibility to the design of broad, as well as intimately scaled outdoor settings. With nearly thirty years of experience, Mr. Nickel has spent the past eighteen years of professional practice focused on significant outdoor campus, health care and higher education environments involving places of special meaning. Mr. Nickel has an exceptional depth of experience in Colorado high country projects and ecosystems involving education and health care programs.

5Design, Inc. can efficiently and effectively meet your most demanding landscape architectural design and contract document production needs. Having provided exceptional service to many of the region's best architects, engineers and campus clients, 5Design has a proven, outstanding record for providing the most cost effective, high level site and landscape design services available.

An accomplished designer, artist, illustrator and team member, 5Design, Inc. owner Spencer J Nickel's work is the result of close collaboration amongst clients, engineers, architects, contractors and stakeholders to arrive at solutions sensitive to budget and schedule, resulting in sustainable places of great meaning and function. His efforts have been featured in the recent book "Built for Learning: A Unified Architectural Vision for the University of Denver," documenting the past decade of landscape and architectural development at the University. Spencer's work has been recognized by the American Society of Landscape Architects, Colorado Chapter, as well as the Society of Illustrators of Los Angeles.

Spencer combines sound design, process, computer graphics, CAD skills and photography with hand-drawn sketches and illustrations to provide his clients with a broad array of creative, elegant and powerful design solutions.
